

Ordalie

“Ordalie” was a commissioned piece of art. A client who loved the forest and felt most at peace while spending time in the woods wanted an artwork that would evoke the same emotion in his office. After the work was delivered to him he had these comments for Angelika:

“Thank you very much for the sculpting of my dryade Ordalie. I am very happy to have been able to purchase such a beautiful work of art. But even more of a pleasure has been taking part in the development and creation of the finished product. I feel that all my wishes and creative input have been considered, and “Ordalie” looks how I would have made her, if I were the artist to do so.”

“Without your artistic knowledge and taste, Ordalie would never had turned out as beautiful as she is now. Defining one’s dreams is not always easy, and sometimes you only know what they look like when you see them finished before you. I want to thank you for your time and understanding through all my e-mails over the last year. Organizing the creation of such a work of art over two continents was surely sometimes difficult and I am glad it turned out so well, thanks to your efforts. I wish you all the best for your future artistic career.”
